Overview

Households in Vietnam could receive up to VND 3 million ($113.9) in investment capital for home solar-plus-storage systems installed for self-consumption, or a preferential loan of up to VND 40 million, under proposals from the country's Ministry of Industry and Trade. Vietnam's Ministry of Industry and Trade is one of the first three countries selected for a pilot program under a new partnership initiative between the Asian Development Bank (ADB) and the Global Energy Alliance for People and Planet (GEAPP), aimed at developing battery energy storage systems (BESS). Thus, it is important to secure an adequate financial source based on the revenue from taxes and fees derived from fossil fuel consumption and generation to compensate for the. Vietnam is accelerating efforts to develop a large-scale battery storage market, aiming to strengthen its renewable energy transition. On September 12, Hanoi hosted a regional roundtable on financing models for Battery Energy Storage Systems (BESS), co-organised by the Global Energy Alliance for People and Planet (GEAPP). Amid a strong energy transition and Viet Nam's efforts to fulfill its commitments toward achieving net-zero emissions by 2050, the research and deployment of Battery Energy Storage Systems (BESS), along with their integration with renewable energy solutions, have become an important part of the country's energy strategy. Discover how Vietnam's groundbreaking energy storage project is reshaping renewable energy adoption and grid stability in Southeast Asia.
