

Rent rooftop solar panels to generate electricity

Overview

When installing solar panels through a solar lease, the solar company will put solar panels on your roof that will generate electricity for your home to use. However, a solar installation's price tag of $15,000 or more can be intimidating. You may have heard of solar leasing as a way to get the benefits of solar panels without the hefty upfront. What if you could power your home with clean solar energy, dramatically reduce your electricity bill, and pay nothing upfront?

When you lease solar panels, that's exactly what happens.
